Minister of Foreign Affairs, Dr Nc Dlamini Zuma.

“We have continued to call for concerted multilateral action to achieve the internationally agreed development goals, including the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs) as a means towards solving economic and social problems and promoting peace and security.”
"It must be said that in a direct sense we owe it in part to your sustained and principled support for our struggle that our President, Comrade Nelson Rolihlahla Mandela, and many of my other fellow former political prisoners have gained release; that our national Chairman, Comrade Oliver Reginald Tambo and other political exiles have come back home; that the African National Congress and all other organisations of our people have been either unbanned or derestricted; and that many of the fundamental laws of apartheid have been repealed."
Oscar Oramas-Oliva, Permanent Representative of Cuba to the UN and Acting Chairman of the UN Special Committee on Decolonisation, addresses the World Conference on Sanctions Against South Africa at the headquarters of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organisation (UNESCO), Paris, 18 June 1986.

Seloka Phiroa, South African Congress of Trade Unionists.

Jacob Dumdum Nyaose (South Africa), President of the Federation of Free African Trade Unions of South Africa, addressing The International Trade Union Conference against Apartheid, Geneva 15 June 1973. In the background, at presiding table is Edwin Ogbu (Nigeria), Chairman of the UN Special Committee on Apartheid.
United Nations Secretary-General Javier Perez de Cuellar and Reverend Freank Chikane.

Joseph Garba (left) of Nigeria. Chairman of the Special Committee against Apartheid and Allan Boesak, President of the World Alliance of Reform Churches and patron of the United Democratic Front of South Africa (UDF) 8 October 1984.
Top: Miriam Makeba addresses the Special Committee on the Policies of Apartheid

Left: Miriam Makeba, conversing with Sir Hugh Foot (United Kingdom), member of the Expert Group on South Africa.

Nadine Gordimer and United Nations, Secretary General Kofi Annan.