Our columnists weigh in on the params of the Palestine question - the Star editorials 8 August 2021

PARAMILITARY police force the new normal?

We stand with Palestine

Unjust actions committed by Israeli letter and spirit of AU charter

Judith Nelius Prof

We have witnessed the senseless deaths and the hoisting of violence and innocence executed against Palestinians living in the Occupied Palestinian Territories.

The authorities may then at this point issue a petition and accelerate the overall criminality. At the same time, the so-called “peace talks” have arguably weakened them as a power equation between an occupying power and a people, seeking occupation.

Palestinian protesters who have lived experiences of South Africa’s own history of racial segregation and oppression. As opposed South Africans, we experienced firsthand the effects of racial inequality and discrimination, and we are well aware of the long-term impact and consequences of racial and other forms of discrimination.

An unwavering commitment is required to engage in dialogue and policies of exclusion completely and permanently. The world as a whole is deeply concerned about the stance of justice and permissible and allow those whose basic human rights and freedoms are impacted by the occupation.

Since its inception in 1948, the UN has championed the principles of equality, non-discrimination and the right to self-determination as an international human rights.

The policies and practices of Israel, as the occupying power, are in flagrant violation of UN General Assembly and Security Council resolutions.

It is therefore imperative that the rights of the Palestinians are not violated.

The policies and practices of Israel, as the occupying power, are in flagrant violation of UN General Assembly and Security Council resolutions.

It is therefore imperative that the rights of the Palestinians are not violated.

The policies and practices of Israel, as the occupying power, are in flagrant violation of UN General Assembly and Security Council resolutions.

It is therefore imperative that the rights of the Palestinians are not violated.

The policies and practices of Israel, as the occupying power, are in flagrant violation of UN General Assembly and Security Council resolutions.

It is therefore imperative that the rights of the Palestinians are not violated.

The policies and practices of Israel, as the occupying power, are in flagrant violation of UN General Assembly and Security Council resolutions.

It is therefore imperative that the rights of the Palestinians are not violated.

The policies and practices of Israel, as the occupying power, are in flagrant violation of UN General Assembly and Security Council resolutions.

It is therefore imperative that the rights of the Palestinians are not violated.