THINK TANK: Siame Leonman politician Zenani Baguma, former British first-secretary of state William Hague. AU Commission chairperson Nkosazana Dlamini-Zuma called on Kenya to participate in the second AU Continental Trade Facilitation Programme for Agenda on Regulator, Jobs and Skills in partnership with the Africa Union Commission in South Africa in June.

KEY POINTS
- South Africa's foreign policy remains an inseparable duty of state and is an important aspect of its industrial revolution.
- Its engagement with China is an important structured mechanism for our engagement with China.
- The Africa-China Forum is therefore an important structured mechanism for our engagement with China.

TWEETS

@PatriciaDeLille: ‘Com -’

@vuyo the saint@VuyoMkhize: "hahaha... Regretting that Fire this man government?"

@Mlungisi: ‘... those #police officers are humans they like killing ourselves’

@vuyo the saint@VuyoMkhize: ‘#CrimeStats Police sexual harassment: 2 million sexual crimes were reported in 2015 and encourage them to stay away from our society. …’

@vuyo the saint@VuyoMkhize: ‘it is therefore self-evident that we drugs. It is therefore self-evident that we …’

COMMENT

Drugs, alcohol abuse behind crime crisis

The crime statistics released by the minister of police has caused one of the most publicized crises in the history of our country. Crime is an issue that is often times difficult to control. It is a crisis that causes a lot of stress and anxiety for people across the country. The crime rate in South Africa has continued to increase, causing concern among the public and government. It is a problem that needs to be addressed urgently in order to ensure safety and security for all South Africans. The crime rate is a serious issue that affects every aspect of our society. It is a crisis that needs to be tackled at all levels of government and society. It is a crisis that requires a comprehensive approach and a multi-faceted strategy to address it. The government needs to work closely with the community, the police, and all stakeholders to find solutions to this crisis. It is a crisis that needs to be addressed urgently and effectively in order to ensure safety and security for all South Africans.

LETTER

Drug, alcohol abuse behind crime crisis

The crime statistics released by the minister of police has caused one of the most publicized crises in the history of our country. Crime is an issue that is often times difficult to control. It is a crisis that causes a lot of stress and anxiety for people across the country. The crime rate in South Africa has continued to increase, causing concern among the public and government. It is a problem that needs to be addressed urgently in order to ensure safety and security for all South Africans. The crime rate is a serious issue that affects every aspect of our society. It is a crisis that needs to be tackled at all levels of government and society. It is a crisis that requires a comprehensive approach and a multi-faceted strategy to address it. The government needs to work closely with the community, the police, and all stakeholders to find solutions to this crisis. It is a crisis that needs to be addressed urgently and effectively in order to ensure safety and security for all South Africans.